Author-in-Residence, James Moloney

Senior students enjoyed an excursion to Kingaroy SHS on Wednesday. We had been invited to attend an author’s workshop with children’s author JAMES MOLONEY. James has written quite a number of books in the 8–14 age group. Our students enjoyed learning how storylines and characters are developed.

‘School of Origin’

Yesterday afternoon the senior class were fortunate to have a visit from staff and students of Nanango SHS. The Year 8 students shared their experiences and were happy to answer the many questions our seniors had for them.

Year 6 & 7 Transition to High School

High school transition activities continue next week at Kingaroy SHS with a Parent Information Session on Wednesday night 17 September from 5.30pm.

Jessica McNamara – Work Experience Student

Former student, Jessica McNamara from Nanango SHS will be assisting in the classroom next week. Jessica aspires to being a teacher and will be part of the action this week.

Can YOU Help?

The P&C are looking for someone to volunteer to slash the oval. Please contact the school if you are available

Changes to School Activities this Term

Please note due to ill health the choir will be part of the action this week.

Reading Room

The Reading room will close on Tuesday 16th September for this term.
   ▪ All books need to be returned on Monday 15th September.
   ▪ Students will change their book ready for collection next term.
   ▪ If you can help out / continue to help please let Mrs Brittan know before the end of term, so a roster can be created

Thank you to all parents and staff giving up their busy mornings to help students with their reading. ‘Every minute counts’

A big thank you to the students who have also assisted, your help is appreciated. Keep up the reading over the holidays!

Reward Activity

The school will conduct its end of term Reward Activity next week. This ‘surprise’ activity is designed to reward students for their great behaviour throughout the term. These students will have successfully operated under the ‘We RESPECT – Ourselves, Others, Things and Places’ behaviour code.

Unfortunately, some students battle with making the right choices and find it challenging to follow the behaviour code at all times. These students will have been in the Thinking Place 3 or more times, been on Red level (3 days Thinking Place) or suspended during the term and are not eligible for the Reward Activity.

Families of students not attending will receive a note explaining their child’s non-attendance. It is expected that these children attend school as normal and do not stay at home to avoid disappointment. A lesson to be learnt by some students is that we must all ‘earn’ the right to so some things in life. Facing the consequences of poor choices is a reality everyone must understand!

We have not yet decided on the Rewards Day. Students will only know on the day it occurs. They just love surprises!

Lost Property – This box is overflowing – please check the items displayed on the seating in the courtyard
